

2021 INTERCOLLEGIATE SPORT REPORT

GENERAL

Despite the challenges of COVID's Delta strain, those who yearned for dramatic and exciting College sport were not left feeling disappointed. Thankfully, all the COVID response tools, policies and procedures were in place from 2020 to ensure the full suite of sporting events were completed.

The year started in promising fashion. We were able to complete all Semester 1 events under regular competition rules. The overall Rawson Cup points ladder was poised for an especially exciting Semester 2. But once the COVID Delta strain hit its straps and we were sent into our second lockdown, the Rawson and Rosebowl competitions were left hanging in a void of uncertainty. Like the rest of NSW, getting back on the playing field all relied on hitting that magical 80 percent number of double-vaccinations. Countless government press conferences resulted in multiple drafts of sporting calendars, until finally, by October we were in a position to roll out the most condensed fixture schedule in Intercol Sport history.

Great Big Events was awarded the tender to livestream the action this year. Rowing was included in the schedule for the first time, and a second roaming camera was used to capture additional action at the Athletics Carnival. The students embraced the added responsibility of operating cameras and providing commentary. It's very satisfying to see this element of Intercol Sport evolve in the desired direction and we look forward to delivering this service again in 2022.

St Andrew's College must be congratulated for taking out both the Rawson Cup and Rosebowl competitions. In a replica of last year, the girls in blue & white were able to secure victories in all events except tennis, which was retained by Women's College.

Along with the inclusion of the regular Women's 7s tournament, Intercol Social Sport made a welcome return in Semester 1 this year. The Committee successfully organised volleyball and water polo gala days which were well received. COVID restrictions permitting, SUSF recommends that these social events continue to be part of the sporting calendar. We were unfortunately unable to hold the annual sports awards dinner again this year. There simply wasn't enough room in the calendar.

As always, the key to the ongoing success of Intercollegiate sport is the continued support of SUSF clubs, the SUSF grounds department as well as an enthusiastic and supportive Intercol Committee and extended college community. I'd like to sincerely thank all those involved in assisting SUSF organising the sporting events this year.

As we now focus our energy on planning for another year, we can't help but wonder what curveballs COVID will throw at us next. I'm confident that SUSF and the 2022 Intercol Sports Committee will deliver another exciting year of sport and continue to overcome the challenges that lie ahead.

Incidents/Recommendations for 2022:

- A hole in the covers at St Andrew's meant the start of play was delayed due to a wet patch on the wicket. This was reported to SUSF operations for repair.
- A number of Pauline residents breached the Carillon Ave wall to access St Andrew's Oval to watch the Drews v Johns fixture. They were escorted from the ground and advised to use the correct entry point in future.
- The northern boundary on St Paul's Oval is very short and as a result we had a couple of lost balls. Pauline Freshers could perhaps be positioned along the northern wall to assist in locating the balls when necessary.

Incidents/Recommendations for 2022:

- Unfortunately, we had a couple of instances of alcohol being snuck into the venue. Many residents were spotted vaping inside as well. We will need to consider reinstating security guards for bag checks, particularly on the final night.
- The halftime show put on by the John's Freshers was borderline inappropriate. This was reported and followed up with a face-to-face meeting between St John's College and SUSF. It is advised that the College Heads, in collaboration with SUSF, draw up a code of conduct document outlining expectations of crowd behaviour.
- The presence of St John's Ambulance responders was a worthwhile inclusion this year. SUSF recommends that they are present at all netball events going forward.

Incidents/Recommendations for 2022:

- The volunteers were late – they arrived 3 mins before the first race was due to start. This was extremely stressful. A stronger message will be communicated to the convening College going forward.
- All volunteers were from the convening College. SUSF recommends that there is an even spread across the volunteers so that all Colleges are represented.
- The result room volunteers had very weak computer skills. This slowed down the process of collating the results and being able to provide timely point updates to the spectators. Convenors need to staff this role with someone with a proficient understanding of Microsoft Excel.
- There was a significant improvement in the running of diving this year. All competitors submitted their dive selections in advance.
- Several supporters were involved in sledging and general disrespectful language targeted at rival competitors. Disrespectful language will not be tolerated. These individuals were moved to the seating bays once this behavior was brought to our attention. SUSF management recommends that only competitors and coaches be allowed on pool deck, with all supporters remaining in the grandstand.

Incidents/Recommendations for 2022:

- Continue to allocate lanes from closest to the finishing tower.
- The mixed eight event had to be cancelled due to extreme wind conditions. We were fortunate to get the two main races completed. An earlier start to the regatta would increase the chances of calmer conditions.

Incidents/Recommendations for 2022:

- Injuries tend to be common at Hockey. SUSF recommends that St John's Ambulance are present and included in the budget for 2022.
- There were a couple of occasions in which SUSF Management and the players arrived before the facility staff. SUSF will request facility staff to start earlier on match days.
- Umpire pay rate was increased to $50 per game from $40.

Incidents/Recommendations for 2022:

- Wesley College was unable to field a front row for Round 2. In accordance the Laws Of The Game, Wesley started with 15 players, then dropped to 13 for the remainder of the game once the first scrum was awarded. Uncontested scrums were then played for the remainder of the game. SUSF recommends that this policy is upheld if teams find themselves in the same situation going forward.
- Remain a sanctioned event for safety of players and referees.
- The lack of numbers on the St Andrew's jerseys at times makes it hard to record point scorers. Match officials have also provided feedback expressing their frustration in identifying individuals involved in foul play. SUSF understands this is a long-standing tradition for the College, however, recommends that jersey numbers are reinstated to resolve these issues.
- Ensure draw is circulated to SUFC well in advance to create a playing schedule that ties in nicely with the Shute Shield draw to maintain player welfare and recovery.

Incidents/Recommendations for 2022:

- There were a number of consistent complaints from various Soccer captains regarding the quality of refereeing. SUSF has engaged the same refereeing company for many years. It is probably time to explore the market and source some competitor quotes.
- A number of Rosebowl soccer captains requested that their game lengths be the same as the Rawson fixtures. This is to be decided by the College Heads.
- As it stands, there are no guidelines surrounding the sanctioning of players receiving red cards. SUSF recommends that the College Heads decide how to deal with these instances going forward.

Incidents/Recommendations for 2022:

- Continue with security presence and bag checks on final nights to keep issues to a minimum.
- Feedback from bench officials includes removal of the shot-clock. It doesn't get used in a strategic capacity at this level (in Rawson or Rosebowl). It is an opportunity to save money on bench officials going forward if it is not used.

Incidents/Recommendations for 2022:

- Wet weather caused havoc for the tournament this year. All players were very understanding and cooperative in last minute venue changes, and we were able to complete matches on the SUSAC synthetic courts when possible.
- MVPs were not awarded due to the wet weather cancellations.

- SUSF recommends that the wording in the constitution be changed so it is clear who is deemed victorious in the case of rain-interrupted play. There was confusion surrounding this on the final day, but was resolved after a vote by the Rosebowl tennis captains.
- We incorporated the Fast 4 rules in order to fit all matches in due to COVID time restraints.

Incidents/Recommendations for 2022:

- Continue to engage Sydney Uni Athletic Club again to officiate the event.
- Advise Intercol sport reps and athletics captains to read the competition rules before the meet. One competitor had to be disqualified for participating in too many field individual events. An honest mistake but easily avoided
